JAS. C. ADAMS ANSWERS SUMMONS

Well Known Hotel Man Dies Here After Long Illness.

Mr. James C. Adams passed away last Monday morning at five o'clock at the Brunswick Hotel in Louisville. He had been ill for several months and had been confined to his room most of the time since last Christmas. Having reached the age of 69 years he was not able to combat the physical troubles that attacked him, though he stood up bravely against them until recently.

The body was taken to his old home at Portsmouth for burial. The interment took place on Wednesday. A funeral service was held here on Tuesday by Revs. John Cheap and J. D. Bell. The Masons accompanied the body to the N. & W. depot in Fort Clay, at Portsmouth, where the Knight Templar order had charge of the burial, and an Episcopal minister officiated. Mr. Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church.

A wife, son and daughter survive, the latter being Mrs. Wm. McDeery, of Charleston, W. Va. The son is Wm. C. Adams, of Toledo, Ohio, and he attended the burial at Portsmouth. A brother, S. P. Adams, was here to see Mr. Adams a few days before his death. The surviving sisters are Mrs. Julia A. Leach and Mrs. Lida Kinney, of Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Marie Adams, widow of Mr. Adams' son, came to Louisville from Portsmouth with her three children Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Adams was the son of a prominent business man of Portsmouth, O. He was a man of unusually wide reading and general information. As a hotel proprietor he was counted a success, being genial, alert and popular. He had been in this business for many years, both at Cincinnati and Louisville. This gave him a wide acquaintance and a great number of friends, all of whom share with the family in the feeling of loss and sorrow.

Mr. Adams had held a responsible position with Dixon, Moore & Co., wholesale grocers, for quite a while previous to his last illness. Mrs. Adams will continue in charge of the Brunswick Hotel, it is said. Those who went from here to Portsmouth to the burial were Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDeery, John Cummings, Earl McClure, L. T. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shannon of this place, and Miss Josephine Harrington of Cincinnati, and other relatives joined them there.

Pike County Elects Highest Bidder Treasurer

A new law is in effect this year governing the election of county treasurers in Kentucky. It provides that the court shall advertise for bids on the office and shall elect the "lowest and best bidder."

A report from Pike county says the highest bidder was elected. We did not learn the name of the man elected, but the report says the court ignored the lowest and best bidder provision and chose the one who was able to corral the greatest number of votes in the court. It is further reported that the election will be vigorously contested.

The law contemplates the elimination of politics and prejudice from this matter and evidently intends that the bids be "laid upon the table" in open court. The lowest bidder, unless unqualified or disreputable, is intended by the law to be elected, without secret ballot or other secret processes.

E. M. STURGELL ANNOUNCES FOR SHERIFF OF LAWRENCE

The attention of the public is called especially to the announcement of Mr. E. M. Sturgell for Sheriff of Lawrence county, appearing in this issue of the NEWS. His candidacy will be received, as he is well and favorably known. He is a man of energy, who attends to his duties promptly. He would make a good Sheriff for these and other reasons. He is honest and sober and could easily give the bond. He would account for every dollar passing through his hands. Mr. Sturgell is an accommodating and popular, and numbers his friends by the hundreds.

SUMMER SCHOOLS FOR KENTUCKY TEACHERS

Frankfort, Ky.—Uniform courses of study will be used in the summer training schools which George Calvin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, expects to conduct in practically every city of this state and which will supplant the county teachers' institutions.

The schools are to begin June 6 and to extend five weeks. The work done in the schools will be a part of the extension work now being carried on by the University of Kentucky and the State normal schools, and is to be under the supervision of one of these institutions and no summer school can be established that has not been approved by the University of Kentucky or one of the normal schools and the Department of Education.

The purpose of the summer schools is to enable as many teachers as possible to meet standards of qualifications required by the new law. The entrance requirements are identical with those required for residence work in the normal schools. The same credits will be granted for work done in the summer training schools as is granted for such work in the present institutions.

11 JURORS PLEAD FOR DR. WINNES' DISMISSAL

Harlan, Ky.—The 11 jurors who held Dr. H. C. Winnes, former Clinician, to be innocent at his recent trial for the alleged murder of Miss Laura Phares, have issued a signed statement declaring Winnes should be dismissed without further trial, declaring his prosecution is a disgrace to the state and that the signers believe the slayer came out of the state prison camp at Dillion. The statement scored Moses Brewer, juror, who held out for Winnes' conviction.

JUDGE CISCO IS OUT OF RACE

Judge Allen N. Cisco has decided that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the office of Circuit Judge of this district. We learn that he made this declaration at the opening of court at Grayson on Monday of this week.

Judge Thos. D. Theobald has announced his entry into the race, following the very earnest appeal of many citizens. He ranks as one of the ablest lawyers in Eastern Kentucky and enjoys the confidence of the people. No one who knows him doubts that he would serve with distinction and absolute impartiality.

It was expected that Judge Cisco would be a candidate, but we are informed that he will locate in Huntington for the practice of law after the close of his term, which will be at the end of 1921.

OIL LEASE SUIT.

A number of citizens of the upper Blaine country were in Louisa this week on their way to Covington, where they are to be witnesses in a suit involving an oil lease on the land of Monroe Moore. The Union company had a lease. Mr. Moore claims he did not receive tender of rental until two days after date due, so he leased it to another company. The Union enjoined the latter from drilling the lease.

VETERANS WIN.

Columbus, Ohio.—Black and white equality does not "go" in Ohio's capitol. Adjutant General George W. Florence can give testimony on this point.

In his absence a subordinate designated a negro to be superintendent of the State House and grounds. Under him are a number of veterans of the Civil War.

They offered their protest in a body, threatening to resign and to start a legislative investigation if the appointment were retained.

The negro was removed.

FISCAL COURT VOTES MONEY TO "POINT" ROAD

The Lawrence Fiscal Court met last Tuesday with all members present, as follows: W. T. Fugitt, J. S. Chapman, H. F. Diamond, G. W. Wellman, John H. Frasher, R. C. Miller, Henry Bishop and G. V. Pack.

Claims were passed upon for various kinds of work done for the county. The election of a county treasurer took place Tuesday at one o'clock. Under a new law this office goes to the lowest bidder. There were four bidders and G. R. Burgess was the lowest. He executed bond at once in the sum of $80,000.00.

On Wednesday the court considered a proposition to place at the disposal of the State Road department the proportion of bond money due the Tug River route. The State department has agreed to direct the expenditure of this money on the road from Louisa to Inez. It amounts to one-fourth of the money that will be realized from the sale of bonds voted Dec. 20, 1919. The action was strenuously opposed by the county attorney.

It is expected that some action will be taken at this term to give the Blaine road its proportion of the bond money. The members of the court made an inspection trip to the county infirmary Thursday.

FORMER FLOYD COUNTY CITIZEN COMMITTS SUICIDE

The Huntington Herald Dispatch of last Monday contained the following article. Mr. Roberts was formerly from Floyd county. Two brothers, Sherman and Cleve Roberts, were residents of Louisa for a short time a few years ago and now live near Buchanan.

His parents also moved to this county. C. W. Roberts, of 704 Twelfth avenue, was found dead in his bed in a local hotel at eleven o'clock Sunday morning.

Investigations conducted by Dr. L. T. Vinson, county coroner, brought from that official a formal verdict to the effect that death had ensued from cyanide of potassium, self-administered.

Mr. Roberts, head of the firm of C. W. Roberts & Company, wholesale jewelers, was born near Paintsville, Ky., and was forty-two years old.

He started his business career as a traveling salesman for a jewelry firm. He had resided in Huntington for six years. Something more than three years ago he organized a wholesale jewelry business in Huntington. The business grew rapidly, despite the conditions following the armistice.

Mr. Roberts was public-spirited and felt a keen interest in the civic welfare of Huntington. He was a member of Huntington Lodge 313, B. P. O. Elks, a member of the Rotary Club and of the Chamber of Commerce, of the Credit Men's Association and other bodies of prominence.

His parents and brothers survive. Mrs. Roberts and their young son and daughter are in Memphis, where Mrs. Roberts was summoned several days ago on account of the illness of her father, who is suffering from an incurable malady.

The remains will be shipped to Memphis under an escort from the Elks' lodge. The funeral and burial will occur there.

Despite the fact that there was no outward motive for his act, friends of Mr. Roberts had been applying that for several days he had faced business difficulties that had preyed heavily upon his mind. These, it was stated, did not involve insolvency, or even portend insolvency, but were of a nature that discouraged him in fighting an uphill battle during readjustment.

It was stated that Mr. Roberts was cheerful when last seen Saturday night and had made an engagement to go to church with his business associate, Mr. Parker. When he failed to show up for this appointment, Mr. Parker became concerned, fearing illness might have prevented. He called his room at the hotel, but received no reply. He went to the room and, finding the door locked, secured assistance and made the startling discovery of Mr. Roberts' death. Coroner L. T. Vinson was summoned and after examination pronounced death due to poison, self-administered.

Pennsylvania to be Made Negro Haven by Boss Penrose's Equality Law

Washington.—A far-reaching political effect is predicted by both republican and democratic leaders to result from the declaration of Senator Penrose, member of the republican national committee from Pennsylvania and titular republican leader of that state for "equal rights" for the negro.

Acting largely under orders from Penrose, the house of representatives at Harrisburg has just passed a bill which provides that negroes in Pennsylvania may patronize hotels, cafes, restaurants, educational institutions and amusement places on equal terms with whites. The measure would severely penalize those who own or conduct "public utilities" by accommodations for refusing negroes access to them or for denying negroes the same privileges accorded whites.

"I communicated with my friends at Harrisburg that I wanted the bill passed," Penrose said.

"I believe the time has come when our negro citizens must no longer be which provides that negroes in Pennsylvania may patronize hotels, cafes, restaurants, educational institutions and amusement places on equal terms with whites. The measure would severely penalize those who own or conduct "public utilities" by accommodations for refusing negroes access to them or for denying negroes the same privileges accorded whites.

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL PROTECT WATER SHEDS

Louisville, April 2.—A campaign will be started immediately by the State Board of Health to protect the water sheds of Kentucky. Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, and F. C. Dugan, State Sanitary Engineer, announced here today. The law provides that persons who throw into the banks of streams by throwing into them carcasses of dead animals or other decaying animal matter may be prosecuted by the State Sanitary Engineer or local health officials, and under it, according to Dr. McCormack and Mr. Dugan, prosecutions will be instituted wherever violations are encountered.

Dr. Irvin Linderberger, Jefferson county health officer, already has sworn out one warrant against a person guilty of dumping a carcass on the banks of the Ohio river, on the river road, near Louisville, and he has announced that other similar prosecutions will be instituted shortly. Mr. Dugan says that he has called to the attention of several violators of the law its provisions and that unless their practices are altered he will resort to the courts in several counties of the State.

STREET PAVING.

A steam shovel was put to work Wednesday excavating Main street from the railroad to Main Cross street. This will expedite the work very decidedly.

Work on Lock avenue will be started very soon, as the new water main is about ready to have the water transferred to it from the old line. This is what the contractor has been waiting for.

Some belated work of lowering water and gas lines on Main Cross street is now being completed.

After that they will be located in Magoffin county, where Mr. Hayes has a contract for drilling a number of oil wells for the Petroleum Exploration company.

Both of these people have lived in Louisa for a number of years and have many friends. The bride is worthy of the respect she has enjoyed here and everybody wishes her a long and happy life. Mr. Hayes is an honest and industrious man, skilled in his line as an oil worker, and successful as a contractor. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes carry with them the best wishes of a host of friends. The date of the wedding had been kept secret, but the news spread rapidly when it took place and a considerable number of friends met them at the depot and sent them away under showers of rice and congratulations.

MEEK FAMILY OF BIG SANDY

First Response to Our Call for History of Big Sandy Families.

One James Meek, of the County of Serry, Province of Ulster, Ireland, had a son Adam Meek, born in the year 1746, who came to South Carolina with the ancestors of President Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk. They all settled in Mecklenburg county, North Carolina; now Union county.

Adam Meek served during the Revolution in Capt. Baker's company under Col. Francis Marion in the second South Carolina Colonial troops. After the war Adam Meek married Martha Wallis, of Charlotte, N. C., in 1781, and removed to Tennessee in 1783. They had six children: James Steel, Alex. and Wm. Wallace, David, Sarah, Jane, and Adam Kenneth Meek.

James S. Meek, the eldest son, went to Kentucky and is supposed to be the ancestor of the Meek family of the Big Sandy valley.

The Meeks are Scotch-Irish. In a very early day they came to Sandy and settled in what is now Johnson county. The family has failed to keep a record of their ancestors. We have the record of the families of James and Wm. Meek. James' eldest daughter, born in the year 1803, was Lenda Meek, who died in the year 1903, being 87 years of age. She married a Ward. Wm. Meek married a Mollett, Melinda married a Ward. Also, Melinda married a Ward. They all lived to great age. William Meek, the brother of James, married Judith Poplar, and they were the parents of Isaac Meek, who was born in 1810. Isaac married a Ward, and they had the following children: Judith, William, Zephaniah, Pauline, Zinna, Shadrack, Sally, Jesse, Green, Vinnie, and Exer Meek. These are all dead except Jesse and Exer, and the latter is the wife of M. L. K. Wells, who is furnishing this bit of family history.

Wm. Meek, father of Isaac, went to Arkansas and raised a family whom I know but little about.

James Meek, of Sandy Valley, was twice married, and Jesse, father of the Lawrence county Meeks, was his son by the second marriage. (If any one finds any mistake in this I would be glad to be corrected. I have the most of this information from Alexander Kennedy Meek, of Washington, D. C., who is a grandson of Adam K. Meek, Jr.)

We find in the census report of 1790 there was listed in South Carolina a James Meek and James Meek, Jr., and James Meek of same county, in Fayette county, another James Meek.

William Meek, brother of Isaac Meek and father of the late Mat Meek of Ironton, Ohio, went in an early day to St. Louis, Mo., and raised a family there. One of his daughters married a Mr. Anderson of St. Louis. The daughter of Captain Green Meek, was the wife of the late Jno. C. Mayo, multi-millionaire, and later the wife of Dr. Fetter, who resided at Ashland. M. L. K. WELLS.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive.

When Master Le Roy was only a few months old the angels took his gentle and kind mother to heaven and the father placed the baby in the home of his sister, Mrs. Jason Taylor, of this place. Roy was well content with his aunt and little cousins. But one day he was kidnapped by his grandfather, Mr. David Wellman of this place also. For two years Le Roy was happy with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellman, who constantly guarded the boy from his father. Finally the case was tried in court, giving the young father the right to claim the boy, when he had a home of his own. Some time ago Le Roy was presented with a new mamma but the grandparents refused to part with the child. A few days ago Le Roy was kidnapped by his father who hastened to West Virginia, and was there confronted by Mr. Wellman who prevented Fields from boarding the train that day. But the second attempt Fields was successful and Le Roy no doubt is well contented and happy in his new home somewhere away up on Tug river. The second kidnapping of little Le Roy like the first caused a tremor of excitement in our community.

SAM COLLINS SAID TO BE

G. O. P. MARSHAL CHOICE

At a conference held by Republican leaders in Louisville it was said that Samuel Collins was the choice of the leaders for Marshall for the Eastern District of Kentucky and that Roy Williamson, Jackson, was the choice for prohibition director for the State.

J. M. Spears, Catlettsburg, presented his claim for the marshalship of the Eastern district at the conference held Saturday, but it seems as if he did not have strong enough backing for the place. Several party workers sought the prohibition director's job.

FAKE NEWS IS BEING SENT FROM PIKEVILLE

The Pikeville News says: Ashland, Lexington and Louisville papers of Sunday, March 27, contained a sensational article dated Pikeville, Ky., stating that "a woman was under arrest here charged with poisoning her two children, so she might remarry again." The dailies featured this as a front page item with prominent headlines.

A representative of the News thought the item sounded "fishy" and made inquiry of Jaffer Morris, who informed us the jail contained no woman charged with the crime. County Judge Trivette also informed us that no woman was under arrest here as indicated in the item under Pikeville date line as appeared in the daily papers, and that nothing of the kind occurred in Pike county.

Judging from the fake news that is being sent out of Pikeville the famous Letcher county correspondent now has a rival in Pike who is an aspirant for his seat at the head of the Ananias Club.

Carson Taylor, Singer,
Mysteriously Disappears

The following article from the Louisville Times will be read by many people in the Big Sandy valley with sorrow. Mr. Taylor assisted in a revival meeting at Prestonsburg in January and sang a solo at the M. E. Church South one evening during the Harbin-Watson meeting.

Not having heard from her husband, Carson Taylor, singing evangelist and for two years a student at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, since he wrote her on March 22 from Hartsboro, Ala., and because he sent his clothes home March 25 from Troy, Ala., indicating that he was on his way here, Mrs. Carson Taylor, 523 West Oak street, his wife, fears that something has happened to him and appealed to the police for aid in locating him.

A letter from the Rev. E. C. Alderman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Troy, Ala., to Mrs. Taylor conveys the information that Taylor left word there March 25 to forward his mail to his Louisville address and sent his clothes home from there, saying that he intended being in Louisville the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Taylor's last letter from her husband said that he had a date for March 24 and that he expected to "work up in Tennessee next week," which was the last week in March. While he is away, Mrs. Taylor said, she usually receives five or six letters a week from her husband. Mrs. Taylor is ill and alone with her three children—Eunice, 9; Carson, 7; and Robert, 5.

Mr. Taylor left here on the night of March 10, his wife said, she having gone to the train with him after he had sung at a State Board of Health meeting that night. He was for a week in Bufala, Ala., and sent her $90 from there, she said.

The Taylors were married in 1909 at Richardson, Texas. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Taylor, live at Rochester, Ky. Their married life has always been happy, Mrs. Taylor said, and there is no reason that she knows of, she said, for her husband not returning. His letters and the fact that he sent his clothes home, she said, indicated to her his intention of returning soon.

Taylor is a baritone and has a reputation as a singer in the South of old-fashioned hymns. He was on an evangelistic mission in Texas when he met his wife, a Dallas girl. Mr. Taylor had been told that he could make a large salary with his voice on the vaudeville stage, but said that he preferred not to interrupt his studies for the ministry.

THE FARMER'S COLUMN

G. C. BAKER, County Agent.

A BLAINE CLUB BOY.
 In May, 1918, Arthura Blaine, son of Troy Sagraves, of Blaine, secured a purebred Poland-China gilt, through his County Agent and the Bank of Blaine. He followed the instructions for feeding closely and fed a well balanced ration consisting of tankage 1 part, corn meal 5 parts, and middlings 4 parts. Bonnie Belle grew until at the age of 6 months she weighed over 300 pounds. At the age of 9 months she was bred to a purebred sire of her breed and Arthura followed up his balanced ration for the pigs until they were three months old, when he started selling them for brooders to his neighbors.

After three years work in this way with his sow he has made a splendid record, not only financially, but he is able to tell his neighbors how to grow a good pig and how to manage for best results. He has as a net result for his services $100 in the bank and four two year old sows which will net him a handsome sum this fall when they come off the grass. Although he was only 13 years old when he started his father turned it all over to him and he has had the responsibility of trading and managing for himself, but of course he advised with his father beforehand. Most fathers will do well to give their boy a pig and let it still be his hog and not father's hog after it is grown as is the case so many times.

Arthura says he intends to keep Bonnie as long as she is able to masticate her food, and with eager expectancy he is looking daily for another litter of pigs to help swell his bank account.

NEWS FROM THE FARMERS.

A great many farmers have received their purebred eggs for hatching, and it is yet time to get them. Your County Agent will gladly furnish S. C. Rhodes and Reds at one dollar per setting. Send in your order at once.

The currant worm which works on gooseberries stripping off all the leaves and thus destroying the berries can be controlled by dusting with hellebore while the leaves are on the plants, use 1 lb. hellebore to 4 parts of air-slaked lime. Another mixture to control the worm is Bordeaux mixture, use 4 lbs. lime, 6 lbs. bluestone to 50 gallons of water to which add 3 lbs. of arsenate lead paste or 1 1/2 lbs. of the arsenate powder. Of course for small patches use the above proportionately.

The spray which will do the apples most good and should be applied just as the petals fall is for the codling moth, which causes the wormy faulty apples, and is as follows: 1 lb. 1 gallon of commercial lime-sulphur; 30 gallons of water, and 1 1/2 lbs. of arsenate of lead powder or 3 lbs. of the paste. Every farmer who has any fruit trees cannot afford to miss this spray, as it is the most valuable one of the season. G. C. BAKER, County Agent.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

WANTED—A friend who will recognize me when compelled to wear patched pants; who will take my hand when I am sliding down hill, instead of giving me a kick to hasten my descent; who will lend me a dollar without two dollars security, who will come to me when I sick; who will pull off his coat when the odds are two to one; who will talk to me behind my back as he does to my face. Such a being is wanted by ten thousand human beings throughout the world.

There is nothing in the world that grows upon one so fast as a desire to loaf. The growth is gentle and pleasant at first. We "put off" a little thing, dodge some little responsibility, or do some little shirking just because we don't wish to exert ourselves. It is a little thing, but it can't be nibbled out. It is the beginning of a disease of the will—a drop from the bucket of mortal force, a scratch on the face of self respect. A gallon is made up of drops, a death gash is only a wide and deep scratch.

At a teachers' examination they were asked by the superintendent "Why they taught school?" Nearly all of them taught from a desire to do good, and one or two were honest enough to confess they wanted the money. To teach for the sake of doing good is noble, and there is no harm in working for money, providing you do your very best to earn your money. Who ever expects to teach school on the "flowery beds of ease" might as well abandon the field at the outset. There is no need for a teacher to be eternally grumbling about small salaries, school directors, and superintendents and unnecessary work. A teacher must make up her mind to work hard and to be found fault with. She must not be over-sensitive. Let her conscientiously strive to do her work and let a worrying, trying-to-please-everybody-spirit depart. Above all things, don't be forever grumbling; accept the situation and extract all the sunshine and sweetness out of it you can. We believe there is much enjoyment in plain, prosaic school teaching, and we speak what we know. Fathers and mothers are apt to express their opinion in a way that you will hear of it, if you happen to cross John or Mary, but that is only the blither with the sweet. There are parents who appreciate your earnest work; you are solving a need that will ripen into grand men and women if you are doing the best you can, working cheerfully, and not continually grumbling about your salary, the lack of appreciation, and your social standing. Dignify your labor. Be gentle and patient. And above all be earnest in your work.

Do not drift. We are living in an intense age; despite the frivolity and gaiety everywhere in evidence, never was there before a time when life was regarded as such an earnest thing; never before was so much required of each individual. Are you doing your part?

It is a trite, homely old adage that says, "More wrong is wrought by want of thought," etc. Certain it is that the mass of suffering and tragedies of the world are the direct results of indolence and thoughtlessness. The old parable of the thoughtless grasshopper who sang all summer and starved when the season of death came, is verified daily. Too many young people fail to take an earnest view of life, and too many suffer for their thoughtlessness. In this land, where fortunes are piled up from poverty, there is too often a tendency toward the belief that is luck, rather than the result of toil and industry, and, above all, a peculiar genius for money-making that a few possess.

The boy, therefore, imagines it will do him no harm if he idles for a while. When he is ready to settle down he can easily acquire wealth by a peculiar sharpness that quite likely he does not possess. He forgets or fails to comprehend that even if he is possessed of financial genius it must also be united with prudence and a moderate amount of industry to achieve a career. A great many boys and girls fail to make themselves valuable to their employer because their aim is not to do their work well, but simply to earn wages. They are ever eager to be through and slow to begin. Such workmen never rise beyond mediocrity. Boys in this country are too often outstripped by foreigners in the shops and trades because they lack systematic business habits. They have not been trained to their work as the foreign youth has been, under the sternest of all masters—necessity.

A WOMAN'S BACK

THE ADVICE OF THIS LOUISA WOMAN IS OF CERTAIN VALUE.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Of times 'tis the kidneys' fault.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Mary Louisa women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. M. J. Dunagan, Lock Ave., says: "It's been about two years since I treated with Doan's Kidney Pills and I was so well pleased with the results that I can recommend them to others. At that time my back ached and there was a constant weakness through the center of my back. I had a dizzy feeling come over me every now and then, too. My kidneys weren't acting regularly and, in many ways, showed signs of disorder. I got to hear about Doan's Kidney Pills and used two boxes. They rid me of my trouble entirely."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dunagan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR

AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION

Beginning Monday, April 25, 1921, at 10 a. m.

And continuing day by day until all land, buildings and equipment have been sold. The properties to be disposed of at this sale, represent an outlay on the part of the Government of

Ten Millions of Dollars

All of which will be sold, in units, to suit purchasers at
The Greatest Auction Sale in History

Sectional view of one of the areas at Camp Zachary Taylor showing character of buildings to be sold.

This Army Camp comprises 2,000 acres of valuable land, adjoining the city of Louisville, together with 2,000 buildings of various sizes, and a vast amount of equipment, such as boilers, plumbers' supplies, stoves, hot water heaters, radiators, electrical equipment, motors, heating and refrigerating plants, etc.

THE BUILDING PROBLEM

For years building has been at a practical standstill. The high cost of material, especially lumber, and the scarcity of labor have compelled a stoppage in the erection of homes, storehouses, barns, etc. That time has now passed. Workmen have been released by the hundreds of thousands and Camp Zachary Taylor will release lumber and equipment. 68,000,000 feet of yellow pine will be disposed of at this sale and at such prices as bidders see fit to pay. Come to this greatest of bargain sales and buy what you want at your own figures. Join with your neighbors in making up car lots to save freight rates. A vast number of cedar, white oak, chestnut and creosoted fence posts, water troughs and grain bins will interest every farmer. There are miles of woven wire hog-tight fencing. Two grain elevators, completely equipped with motors, conveyors and chutes.

OUR GUARANTEE

This is an absolute sale. You win or you lose on April 25th. We sell no one privately, but do an exclusive auction business. No set price, no reservation, no by-bidding, no private sale. This has been our motto for the twelve years we have been in business, during which time we have operated from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and have never failed or refused to sell a single piece of land, or property of any kind, after it was placed under the hammer. You make the price. The Government makes the deed. That's all.

SWEET BIRDS.

HE DIDN'T GET A RAISE BECAUSE—

He stopped growing.

He had no initiative.

He watched the clock.

His temper kept him back.

He felt above his position.

His tongue outlasted his brain.

He didn't put his heart into his work.

He believed in living as he went along.

His familiarity with inferiority dulled his ideals.

He was always grumbling. He was always behindhand.

He was not dependable, one never knew where to find him.

He never dared to act on his own judgment, did not trust it.

He never seemed to learn anything from his blunders, mistakes or experiences.

He lacked system, orderliness in his work, he was sloppy, slovenly, slipshod, lazy.

BIG SANDY NEWS

Uncle Peter's Tin Box

By HAROLD SINCLAIRE

(Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

"I'll get even with him—if it takes twenty years I'll have it out with Mark Dawson!"

The owner of Hillside farm spoke the words venomously. His list was dejected, his face distorted, and youth, prosperity and the possession of broad, fruitful acres seemed to have no force to subdue his angry mood.

"If I may make a suggestion," observed his insinuating companion, Lawyer Dole, "I don't think I'd make my life miserable over a trifle. Why, what more do you want than what you've got, Tom Lacey? The favored heir of old Peter Babson married to the handsomest girl in the district—"

"Bah!" shouted the other ragefully. "What is she or the money to me against the only girl I ever loved? I tell you, Dole, I was robbed of Lella Dallas. When that handsome wife of mine, as you call her, gets in her tantrums, and I realize what I've lost, it about sets me wild. Here Dawson has settled down right under my nose, fairly flaunting his success in winning Lella."

"I reckon it was the only place he had to settle down in, Lacey. The girl liked him best, and naturally married him. They're poor, as church mice."

"I'll drive the Dawsons out of the neighborhood!" muttered Lacey darkly.

For a young man with fairly growing prospects in life, Tom Lacey was in an unthankful and dangerous mood. He had nursed his one grievance till it began to tinge everything he did with somber and tragic gloom. He and Mark were cousins. They had both courted pretty Lella Dallas. Certainly the little lady had given Tom no cause to suppose she favored him. When she married the man of her choice, however, Tom felt bitterly wronged. He refused to even notice the happy pair.

Old Peter left Tom the big home farm and some comfortable investments. To the surprise of everybody, all that Mark was awarded was "the River lot," with all thereon, the will read. "All thereon" was little indeed—a broken-down cottage, a few farm implements, and a great gnarled apple tree just all bearing and dead at the top.

Tom Lacey had uttered no idle passing threat to Lawyer Dole. It was early spring when he made it. He had men in his employ to weed and unscrupulous as himself. They became willing tools in his schemes of low revenge. Its result was made very patent to have, patient Mark and his loving helpmate, Lella, at harvest time.

It was evening tide, and husband and wife sat on a bench under the old apple tree.

"It's pretty bad, Mark. I must confess," she was saying. "The whole work of a season gone! Don't fret about it, dear. We will begin all over again."

Early in the spring at seedling time some one had tampered with the well-tilled fields. Some one had put in mustard seed and that of a tagly weed, and had choked out the wheat, oats, buckwheat and rye.

"The whole lot isn't good enough for bedding," said Mark. "I've got a chance to chop wood in the forest half the winter. That will keep the wolf from the door till springtime, say-bow."

"Yes, dear," said Lella soothingly, "and I can help out with some sewing. Speaking of chopping. It might not be a bad idea to get the old apple tree out of the way."

"I suppose it will topple over some stormy night and hit the house if we don't," replied Mark.

Mark tried not to think hard of dead Uncle Peter. Still, he had reason to expect a better share in the estate than he had received. More than once that relative had shown him a small tin box filled with a great heap of stord-up banknotes, with his own name scratched upon the box.

"The snow is too deep to work in the woods today," said Mark to Lella one bleak wintry morning. "I believe I'll tackle the old apple tree."

"Yes, the fuel supply is somewhat low," answered Lella. Finally there was a crash.

Lella rushed to the door just as Mark came tearing into the room. "Oh, Lella!" he gasped. "See! The box—the tin box. My name scratched on the cover. Exactly the one Uncle Peter showed me so many times!"

In suspense and wonder Lella stared as the box was placed on the table. Inside was a letter telling all about it, and—banknotes! banknotes! banknotes!

Uncle Peter had selected a queer hiding place for the little fortune he had put by in ready cash for his young nephew. The inclosed letter settled all questions as to legal ownership.

"Why, we are rich!" breathed Lella, marvelingly.

"I always was rich with such a treasure as you; and now," said Mark tenderly, "with the money to give you luxury as well as comfort, I wouldn't trade with a multi-millionaire."

Mistaken Identity.

Mother (after visitor had gone)—

Bobby, what on earth made you stick out your tongue at our pastor? Oh, dear!

Bobby—Why, m-m-m-m-m, I just showed it to him. He said, "Little man, how do you feel?"—and I thort he was a doctor!—From Life.

BIRDS AID GREATLY IN WAR ON INSECTS

Of 27 Species Examined 25 Were Grasshopper Eaters.

Farmer Should Form Defense Alliance with Aerial Cavalry to Obtain Necessary Protection Against Enemies.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Special investigations to find how far the various bird species aid mankind in his perpetual war on insect enemies are being carried on by the bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture. In the western states the grasshopper is particularly troublesome, so far as the farmer and the ranch owner are concerned. Specialists found that of 27 species of birds examined 25 were grasshopper eaters. In 19 of the species all of the individuals collected had given grasshoppers place on their menu. The birds having the best records were the lark sparrows, meadowlarks, Franklin gulls, Arkansas kingbird, crow blackbird, and the common kingbird.

Probably there are not birds enough in the country to clean up a full-strength invasion of grasshoppers such as the western farmers have come to dread. It is said, but the birds assist materially in the efforts made by man to control the pest.

Specialists say that poisoning campaigns are among the best weapons used against the grasshopper. From time to time reports are sent in, saying that many birds have fallen victims to the poisoned mixtures placed for the insects. Such charges were associated with the xypso-moth spraying campaign in New England and with the laying of poisoned baits for cut worms and other insects. Careful observation, made by experts, shows that the bird losses from such causes are insignificant. Some birds, it is said, are not harmed at all by the presence of poison placed for insects or vermin; the quail in California were not harmed by the baits that were set out to kill ground squirrels—though the campaign was a general one and was conducted with much intensity. In the Dakotas a few birds unwitting to the arsenic marshes placed for grasshoppers, but the number killed was so slight as to be of no consequence, it is said.

By killing stray cats and chasing off unscrupulous hunters the farmer can become a party to a sort of defensive alliance with his birds, so that when his crops need protection against insect enemies he will have a squadron of aerial cavalry to help him repulse the raid, specialists say.

SEED-TESTING PLEASES BOY

Work is Admirably Adapted for School Room—Equipment Necessary is Inexpensive.

In order to prevent Jack from becoming a dull boy as a result of all work and no play, many hours can be spent profitably in the schoolroom by forgetting books and lessons for a time and testing seeds. Seed testing is a diversion that is as practical as it is enjoyable. It is admirably adapted for exercise work in every schoolroom whether or not a systematic course in agriculture is given. Little equipment is necessary. A study of samples of farm seed to be sown by the pupils' parents, to determine the percentage of germination and the extent of impurities in the seed, offers a means of connecting the school with the home with benefits to both. Impurity tests can be made by an examination with a magnifying glass. The only apparatus necessary for germination tests of small seed consists of two plates, and a piece of blotting paper. Write to the United States Department of Agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin 428, "Testing Farm Seeds in the Home and in the Rural School." It gives complete directions.

SALT IMPROVES COWPEA HAY

Enhances Palatability and Where Crop is Not Entirely Cured Prevents Fermentation.

The use of salt has been recommended by many successful growers in the mowing of cowpea hay. Although not essential, undoubtedly the hay is improved in palatability, and it may, in the case of hay not entirely cured, assist in preventing fermentation. About eight quarts of salt are used to one ton of hay.

MOUNTAIN STORY WINS PRIZE. The prize offered by the "National Literary Bureau of Mammals, Mo." for the best short story, was awarded to Miss Blanche C. Preston, of Pike county, Ky.

This prize winning story is typical of the mountains, and deals with both characters and conditions, prevalent in the mountains of Kentucky. In reviewing this M. S. S. one editor issued the following statement:

"You cannot read Miss Preston's work without being carried to the mountains by the force of her vivid imagination, and her powerful personality. You seem to breathe the pure air of the hills and hear the sound of the breezes among the trees as you read her graphic description of the scenes pictured in her story. She writes as one who knows and loves the mountains; therefore her language is both simple and natural. But her strongest points lies in the characters she uses, and the strength of the plots developed."

Miss Preston is well known in literary fields, where her success and popularity as a short story writer have given her a prominent place, beside being a successful business woman.
